

Dear Parishioners,

There are many children who grow up in homes where God and Christian living are absent. Therefore it is more important than ever that we, as Christians, are to be good models to the wider society of the love and compassion of Jesus. This is why the Chaplaincy programme in our high schools is so vital. These chaplains are in these school communities as impartial mentors to children who often have many problems and who are looking for encouragement and affirmation. Today we have our annual Chaplaincy appeal, which offers much needed financial support that allows chaplains to continue their work. We are fortunate to have a representative of the local chaplaincy group in our parish and I welcome Jean as she speaks to you all today. Please listen to her talk with open hearts and give generously to this appeal as you leave the church.

I wish to thank Bernie Kolay for his generous donation of time and effort in organizing the new AV system for the church. I pray that the new system, with its greater visibility and flexibility, will enhance the celebration of our liturgies. - Fr. Sunny
